Welcome!

The original Hotel Trentham dates back to 1926, a pub built for the local potato farmers, the transient gold prospectors & and the Wombat Forest timber workers. A pub founded by the need for the locals to have a place to enjoy a hearty meal, wet the whistle, and share some stories.

100 years later, the pub has been meticulously restored to its former glory, with a few modern touches to ensure it can service today's needs & expectations.

Whilst the industries that the workers who frequented Hotel Trentham have all but disappeared, the need for the locals to have a place to enjoy a hearty meal, share a drink, and catch up with friends remains the same.

As we celebrate the centenary of this wonderful old pub, we guess the saying that "everything old becomes new again" is more relevant than ever here at Hotel Trentham!
